No previous refces bearing on the subject in ~~the first~~ Para 2 of the Census Supt's letter shows that no such reference was needed on the last occasion (1911 Census) as the ~~then~~ employed for Census work in 1911 were mostly officials from other depts

(4) The Census Supt's recommendation is for preference being given only when other things, governed by existing orders, are equal & does not therefore ~~in~~ clash with existing Prospects of Employment for the discharged employes (temporary) of the Census Department.

SIR,

Now that the Sorting and Compiling operations are coming to a close, and that most of the temporary establishment (consisting of - Inspectors, Supervisors Compilers and Sorters etc,) will have to be disbanded about the end of this month, I have the honour to address Government regarding the prospects of Employment for these discharged employes.

2. This temporary establishment differs from the similar establishment entertained during the Census of 1911 in that the latter contained a strong contingent of officials able to revert to their - permanent posts in the Head Quarter, District and Taluk Offices on the cessation of Census operations. At the present Census the temporary establishment consists mostly of non-officials, the number of officials and pensioners employed being comparatively small. Again, of these non-officials a large number consists of students who have temporarily discontinued their studies and who will revert to these these at the close of sorting and compiling operations; and no question of finding employment arises in their case. The remainder consists of non-officials who have some occupation to fall back upon after the Census work is over and of students who have completed their studies and are eager to enter Government or other service. It is with this latter class consisting of about 30 persons that my present communication deals.

3. Many of these students have done their college work well and will be an acquisition to Government service, especially as teachers in the Education Department which is opening new schools under organization scheme. I therefore request that Government will be pleased to issue an order declaring that, other things being equal, preference should be given to the discharged Census employes (possessing good testimonials) in the filling up of vacancies in the various Government Departments.

4. A list of such discharged employes will, if Government approve, be sent to the Heads of Departments at about the end of this month and thereafter as necessity arises therefor.
